Slateford Woman Saved From Liner

Crash Awakens Mrs. Antonacci From Sleep

A SLATEFORD WOMAN was one of the survivors of the ill-fated Italian luxury liner Andrea Doria who arrived in New York last night aboard the rescue liner Ile de France.

"We never knew what happened," Mrs. Margaret Antonacci told The Daily Record, when reached at the Italian Welfare League, Inc., in New York.

Mrs. Antonacci, mother of Emory Antonacci of 528 Lindbergh Ave., Stroudsburg, was returning home after visiting Rome and attending the marriage of her daughter, Ann, a former nurse at General Hospital.

The Slateford woman said she went to bed about 9:30 p.m., Wednesday because of a headache. An hour-and-a-half later, the Andrea Doria was involved in its fateful collision with the Stockholm off Nantucket Island.

"I jumped out of the bed when I heard the crash," Mrs. Antonacci told The Record. "I ran upstairs when I saw the smoke, because I thought it was a fire."

For the next three hours, Mrs. Antonacci waited for help to arrive.

"Everybody started to jump," she said, "but I was afraid to because I didn't have a life-saver."

At length, however, the captain and a seaman led her into a life boat, she disclosed. From there, she was placed aboard the Ile de France.

Although Mrs. Antonacci escaped without injuries, she had to leave her pocketbook and other belongings in Cabin 254 when she fled for her life.

Last night, she was at the Italian Welfare League headquarters, awaiting the arrival of her son to bring her home.

Egypt Seizes Suez Canal Under Decree

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, July 26 (AP)—Egypt is seizing the Suez Canal under a nationalization decree, President Gamal Abdel Nasser announced tonight.

Its revenues will be used to build the Aswan Dam, he said.

Nasser declared his government taking over the canal could receive 100 million dollars a year in revenue.

"We don't have to seek American and British aid for building our dam," he said. "We'll build the dam ourselves and with our own money."

The dam has been projected to cost $1,130,000,000.

To wildly cheering thousands packed into Alexandria's Liberation Square, Nasser read this decree:

In the name of the nation we hereby declare that the International Suez Canal Co. be nationalized. The company with its assets and liabilities will be transferred to the Egyptian state. The present management will be liquidated.

Shareholders will be compensated according to closing prices in the Paris stock exchange.

"The company will be annexed to the Egyptian Ministry of Commerce. The company will have its own budget. All company money in Egypt and abroad will be frozen. Banks and individuals are forbidden to dispose of this money except with permission from the new Egyptian management. All employees will remain in service. No resignations will be accepted."

Suez 3 per cent shares opened at 56,000 francs ($160) and closed at 57,000 francs ($162.84) Thursday on the Paris Bourse market.

In London, Prime Minister Eden called in the U. S. charge d'affaires and the French ambassador for emergency talks.

Postal Bill Ditched For Year

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—A bill to increase postal rates was ditched today until next year.

THE ARROW MARKS THE SPOT where Alfred Arminas, 46-year-old cook at Unity House, was felled by a blast from a .12 gauge shotgun outside the Garris Tavern in Bushkill late yesterday afternoon. Milford State Police said they are holding the tavern proprietor, Arthur Garris, for questioning in the shooting, although no formal charges had been lodged against him last night. Arminas was reported in fair condition at General Hospital last night.

Steel Strike May Reach End Today

By ROBERT M. FARRINGTON
NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—A settlement of the 26-day-old steel strike before this weekend was predicted today by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America.

He made the prediction during a recess in meetings between union and industry representatives and after reports that the negotiators were having trouble with contract language. The broad outlines of the contract are known to have been hammered out.

There had been hope of a settlement today. McDonald had summoned the union's executive board and wage policy committee for meetings, but the meetings were postponed until tomorrow.

Question
McDonald was asked specifically if he expected a settlement of the strike before the weekend.

"I think so," he replied. Then he said he believed the settlement would be "noninflationary" and would be in the best interests of labor, management and the country. He said he expected the settlement would result in "substantial" price increases in steel.

McDonald's comments came after negotiators had met from 9:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. and then recessed until 4:30 p. m. They recessed again at 7:50 p. m., announcing they would meet again tomorrow at 9:30.

As the negotiators emerged from the morning meeting John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel, the industry's number one negotiator, was asked if there was any significance in the apparent delay of final settlement.

"It just means we have not concluded an agreement," he said.

The reported pact, covering 650,000 steelworkers, is said to contain a 50-cent hourly package increase spread over a 3-year period. From 20 to 25 cents of this would be given in the first year—9 cents as direct wages, 5 cents toward a 52-week layoff pay plan, and the balance for pensions, insurance, premium pay for Sunday and other benefits.

At a news conference today Eugene C. Grace, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel, said he expected his company would be producing at 100 per cent of capacity within 10 days after settlement of the strike. He estimated the company's production loss due to the strike at 1,200,000 tons.

House Passes Social Security

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a compromise Social Security bill allowing qualified women to draw retirement benefits at age 62 and disabled workers to receive payments at age 50.

The House acted by voice vote and without debate.

SHOOTING SUSPECT—Trooper John McCarthy of the Milford Barracks, State Police watches Arthur Garris, middle-aged proprietor of a Bushkill tavern, enter the patrol car before making the trip to the Pike County Prison in Milford. Although no formal charges have yet been made, State Police indicated that Garris is being questioned on the shooting of Alfred Arminas, 46, a cook at Unity House, during an argument at the tavern yesterday afternoon. Arminas was reported in fair condition at General Hospital last night.

Theft Of $6,000 Reported From Tannersville Garage

THEFT OF SOME $6,000 in cash and checks from Gray's Chevrolet Garage in Tannersville is being investigated by Mount Pocono State Police.

The intruders entered the building some time Sunday night and cracked open a heavy safe to get at the $2,000 in cash, and the $4,000 in checks. There appeared to be unanimous agreement that it was a professional job.

The thieves broke a window in the rear of the building and unfastened a latch to gain entrance, it was learned. Then they went to work tapping the dial on the heavy safe.

Discovery
The break was discovered Monday morning by an employee, it was also learned, although efforts to gain information from State Police were unsuccessful last night.

The investigation is being carried on by Troopers Joseph Murphy and Robert Latzo of the Mount Pocono Substation.

Louis Gray, owner of the garage, last night stated that the robbery took place sometime after 8:30 p. m. Sunday, when the garage was closed.

Chester Kemp discovered the robbery at 7:45 a. m. Monday, when he opened for business. Without touching anything, Kemp immediately called State Police.

Gray is hopeful that area residents will be on the alert for payroll checks from the garage, which were among the loot.

Probe Nears Finish

SCRANTON, July 26 (AP)—U. S. Atty J. Julius Levy said today a federal grand jury probe into alleged irregularities at the air material section of the Olmsted, Pa., Air Force Base will be concluded tomorrow.

Quakers Rap Recent Hearing

PHILADELPHIA, July 26 (AP)—Nine Quaker leaders, in a strongly-worded letter, today criticized the conduct of a House Un-American Activities subcommittee hearing here last week.

Shotgun Shot Wounds Man Outside Tavern

BUSHKILL.—A month-long series of arguments ended yesterday afternoon when a 46-year-old cook at Unity House was felled by a blast from a 12 gauge shotgun outside a tavern here.

The victim, Alfred Arminas, 46, of Staten Island, N. Y., was reported in fair condition last night at General Hospital with gunshot wounds of the lower part of his legs.

Meanwhile, Milford State Police are holding Alfred Garris, middle-aged proprietor of Garris Tavern, in the shooting. The suspect was remanded to the Pike County Prison, awaiting formal charges to be placed against him.

Time
Troopers said the shooting occurred about 4:40 p. m. outside the suspect's tavern, located on the Bushkill Falls Rd.

After an argument inside the tavern, the State Police said, both men went outside and continued to squabble.

At length, Garris went inside and got the shotgun and allegedly let loose with a blast from the weapon which was loaded with birdshot, troopers said. The victim reportedly was standing across the highway, while Garris was said to have been standing on the porch of his establishment at the time.

Further details were not immediately made available. However, it was noted by a reporter that the back of Garris' shirt was torn apart.

Witnesses told a reporter both men were engaged in a fracas on the tavern porch before the shooting occurred.

A preliminary investigation was conducted by Cpl. David Roberts and Trooper John McCarthy of the Milford Substation. The investigation is scheduled to continue today.

Stassen To Take Test

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen came out of a meeting with Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall today and announced he would "re-evaluate the facts" behind his dump-Nixon drive.

For that purpose, Stassen said, a new, nationwide poll will be taken next week to get a fresh test of public sentiment on a GOP vice presidential candidate. Until the results are in he indicated he will take no more pot shots at Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Herter
Stassen has called on Republicans to nominate Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts as President Eisenhower's running mate instead of Nixon. GOP Chairman Hall countered this Stassen move by lining up Herter to place Nixon in nomination for a second term.

Stassen said he is in favor of dumping Nixon on the basis of previous polls paid for by himself and some unidentified associates. Preliminary results of these polls, Stassen said, show Nixon running last in a field of eight potential candidates.

Five Dead, 50 Missing After Crash

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Italy's pride of the seas, the 30,111-ton luxury liner Andrea Doria, sank today in the Atlantic after an unexplained collision with the Swedish liner Stockholm. A Herculean rescue operation saved most of the 1,709 persons aboard the Italian vessel.

There were five known dead and many injured in the collision of the two transatlantic ships in dense fog at 11:20 last night, 45 miles south of Nantucket off the coast of Massachusetts.

Philadelphia Mayor Among Survivors

By The Associated Press

MAYOR RICHARDSON Dilworth of Philadelphia and thirty other Pennsylvanians were among the survivors of the collision between the transatlantic liners Andrea Doria and Stockholm.

Dilworth, a figure of national political stature since his mayoralty victory last year, was aboard the Andrea Doria with his wife. They were returning from a trip through the Middle and Near-East.

The 58-year-old attorney managed to make a ship-to-shore call from the liner Ile de France with word that he and Mrs. Dilworth had been taken aboard that vessel and were safely bound for New York.

Dilworth said his wife sustained a bruise over the eye.

Dilworth's six children and two step-children did not accompany him on the trip.

Others
Other Pennsylvanians on the Stockholm were a Meadville family of five—Robert B. Lynn, 25, his wife, Elaine, and their three children, Michael 3, Elizabeth 1, and William 2, months.

Lynn, an instructor in the music department of Allegheny College, was traveling to Copenhagen, Denmark, on a Fulbright scholarship to study at the University of Copenhagen. He was on a year's leave of absence from the college.

A native of Colorado Springs, Colo., Lynn was graduated from Colorado College and the Juilliard School of Music, New York. He has been at Allegheny since 1954.

Also on the Stockholm was a Pittsburgh physician, Dr. Leonard A. Lauffe, 32, bound for Sweden for advanced study of cancer treatment methods. The father of two children, he planned to study radiation cancer treatment at Karolinska Institute in Stockholm, a leading cancer center.

Other Pennsylvanians on the Andrea Doria included:

Bangor Borough Officials Review Steps Taken To Construct Sewage Treatment Plant

HARRISBURG, July 26 (AP)—Bangor Borough officials today reviewed steps taken during the last month aimed at setting up a sewage treatment plant for the Northampton County community.

At present, the state reimburses municipalities constructing plants at the rate of 2 per cent of the construction cost per year.

He also said he contacted the federal government on a new law authorizing federal help for such projects but the board said a special appropriation by Congress is necessary and the actual help would be negligible.

Engineer
David O. Pritchard, borough engineer, reviewed what plans have already been made for the construction of a plant but Davis said they were too expensive. "We would like another engineer to draw up specifications to see if the job could be done more economically," Davis said.

Davis also suggested that neighboring Roseto should be included in any plans Bangor draws up for a treatment plant. The communities are adjacent.

Rex Erdman, president of borough council, said public opinion against the project had not changed substantially in the past three years. He said a "high pressure salesmanship job" is needed to convince residents the outlay for a plant would be beneficial to the community.

Bartholomew Appointed Special Agent

PAUL BARTHOLOMEW, of 245 Hoffman St., East Stroudsburg, has been appointed special agent for the Massachusetts Protective Association, Inc., representing the Philadelphia area.

Bartholomew has led the Philadelphia District Agency for the months of May, June and July in production and at present stands 45th in the nation among some 11,000 Paul Revere and Massachusetts Protective Agency agents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew are to be honored this week when they are guests at a luncheon in Philadelphia.

Earnings accruing to the common stock of Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. for the 12 months ended June 30, 1956 were $20,000,430, equivalent to $3.38 per share of common stock outstanding at such date, as compared with $17,950,077 or $3.04 per share for the 12 months ended June 30, 1955. Earnings for both periods include earnings of former subsidiary, the Scranton Electric Company, (merged January 31, 1956) for applicable periods prior to merger and earnings for 1955 also include restated earnings of the former Pennsylvania Water and Power Company (merged June 1, 1955).

If effect is given to order of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission dated July 16, 1956, which directs the company to reduce rates by $1,366,000 annually based on the 12 month period ended February 28, 1955, the earnings per share would be $3.27 for the 12 months ended June 30, 1956 and $3.01 for the same 12 months of 1955.

Revenues for the 12 months ended June 30, 1956, on the same basis were $127,363,410, an increase of 8.1 per cent over comparable revenues for the previous year.

Duke Denies Nazi Story

PARIS, July 26 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor said today he had "no communications or contact whatsoever" with Walter Schellenberg, a high-ranking Nazi who, according to published reports, was to have offered him a large sum of money if he would go over to the Germans in 1940.

The Duke, in a prepared statement, said:

"I have not read the newspaper reports of Nazi intrigue which are supposed to concern me. No doubt the Schellenbergs of Hitler's regime had all kinds of devious schemes in the back of their minds.

"I have only this to say. I had no communication or contacts whatsoever with Schellenberg nor for that matter did I ever hear of him until this alleged matter developed. As for Ribbentrop, I met him only in his official capacity and never saw him after 1937."

According to the published accounts, the alleged offer was the idea of Hitler, with his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, to organize the plan, Schellenberg, a member of the S.S.—Elite Guard—machine, was said to have been named the go-between.

The story, published by magazines in Sweden and West Germany and reprinted in today's London Sunday Dispatch, said the Duke was to have been offered 50 million Swiss francs—about 12 million dollars. The account said the scheme failed because British secret service men learned of it and the duke was appointed governor of the Bahamas and flown out of Portugal at once.

FBI Searches Vote Records

SCRANTON, July 26 (AP)—Two special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation today began the task of examining and photographing Scranton primary election records in a county courthouse room made available for their use by Judge Otto P. Robinson.

Agents John W. Reinhard and Thomas J. Williams upon arrival at the courthouse discussed arrangements with A. E. McAndrew, chief clerk to the Lackawanna County Board of Elections, comprised of County Commissioners M. F. Lawler, Joseph F. Conrad and Charles Joseph.

They banned picture-taking by news cameramen, according to McAndrew who said they informed him that they understood U.S. Atty. J. Julius Levy and County Solicitor Philip V. Mattox had agreed they were to have "complete privacy."

Three Types On Tax Returns Due

EMPLOYERS are reminded by F. P. Graham, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Scranton District, that three types of taxes are due by July 31.

The taxes are due for the three months ending June 30, 1956, from the following:

Employers
One—Employers who file quarterly Federal tax returns, Form 941. This combined return is for reporting Withholding and Social Security taxes on employees for the second quarter.

Two—Employers who have domestic servants such as cooks, janitors, maids, chauffeurs, and other workers who perform services of a household nature, are subject to social security taxes (Form 942) if $30.00 or more were paid in wages in the second quarter of 1956.

Three—Returns from persons liable for quarterly excise tax returns (Form 720) are due July 31, 1956. Excise taxes include taxes on facilities and services, manufacturing excise taxes and taxes on products and commodities. Where the taxes exceed $100.00 a month, the depositor receipt system must be used. Failure to do so will result in a civil penalty.

About 13 per cent of U. S. spending units (families and single people) had incomes over $7,500 in 1955 compared to 6 per cent in 1950.

Matamoras Motorist Dies In Hospital

NEWTON, N. J. — Frank Hopkins, 31, of Matamoras, Pa., died at 1 a. m. yesterday in Newton Memorial Hospital of injuries he suffered in a highway accident early Monday on Route 205 in Sandy Township, Sussex County.

Trooper
Trooper William Phillips, of the Hainesville state police station, said that Hopkins was driving north when the accident happened. A passing motorist found Hopkins lying beside the highway at 4 a. m. His car had run off to the left, struck a boulder and continued 30 feet back onto the highway, throwing Hopkins to the ground.

Death was caused by head injuries, hospital authorities said.

Because she has phones where she needs them, Mrs. Richard Gora can work at top efficiency, without wasting time and steps. It's easy for her to watch the children, too.

MODERN "HOUSEHOLD EXECUTIVES" WORK MORE EFFICIENTLY WITH ADDITIONAL TELEPHONES

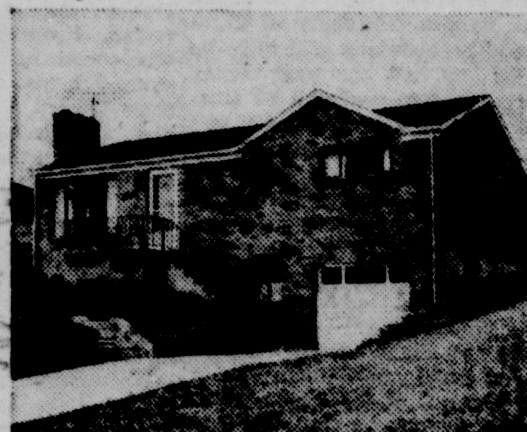

It takes many skills and talents to manage a household. In fact, the modern housewife is really a household executive, responsible for a score of varied and important jobs from buying supplies for the family to nursing sick children. And, as Mrs. Richard Gora has discovered, telephones where you need them are a big help to efficiency. Since a phone is always close by, Mrs. Gora can make or receive calls and still be near 4-year-old Barbara Lynn and baby Richard (watching them is a full-time job in itself). Additional phones save her time and steps every hour of every day.

Dinner on the stove... and the phone rings. While she talks, Mrs. Gora can keep an eye on both dinner and children. She enjoys the wonderful convenience of a kitchen telephone.

Telephones where you need them can be a big help to you, too—whether your house is large or small, and whatever the size of your family. They bring you extra convenience, comfort and privacy; they help you work more efficiently. Each additional telephone costs 85¢ a month. Each can be in color, if you wish—take your choice of eight smart decorator colors and several 2-tone combinations.

Make your home a modern telephone home... today. Just call our Business Office and ask for your Service Representative. She'll be happy to take your order.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gora live in this split-level house in Bethel Borough, near Pittsburgh. Like many of their neighbors, the Goras have phones where they need them.

Stassen-Nixon Developments Center New Attention On Republican Politics

We don't know what is behind Harold E. Stassen's determined effort to derail Vice President Richard Nixon's bid for renomination, but we strongly suspect his own personal ambitions play a greater role than his interest in the Republican party.

Stassen's failure to win the party's presidential nomination on several occasions seems a logical foundation on which to begin an appraisal of the startling political development.

President Eisenhower has publicly announced his preference for Nixon as his running mate in the November election. Stassen, as the President's special assistant in charge of disarmament negotiations, might be expected to accept the boss' decision without question provided he expected to remain a member of the "official family."

But he has chosen, instead, to gamble his political future on a "ditch Nixon" movement that appears, for the moment at least, to be making little headway.

In fact, Massachusetts Gov. Christian Herter, the man Stassen proposed for the No. 2 spot on the GOP ticket, has announced his intention of nominating Nixon at the Republican National Convention.

Stassen has disclaimed any vice presidential ambitions for himself; yet he spearheaded what he described as a public opinion poll in which he permitted his own name to be listed as a possible running mate with Eisenhower.

Whether this factor alone is sufficient to indicate that Stassen hopes to replace Nixon as the V.P. nominee is open to debate. One must dig deeper and probably await further developments before deciding if his suspicions are correct.

Stassen said he anticipates opposition to his move from the right wing of the Republican party. This does not mean he is a left-winger, but it could indicate he hopes that element of the population will raise enough clamor against Nixon to sway public opinion away from the vice president.

During the presidential election campaign four years ago, it will be recalled, many of the attacks on Nixon came from the left-wingers who held the Californian largely responsible for the conviction of Alger Hiss. As a U. S. Senator, Nixon headed the committee which investigated Hiss and brought about the trial that sent him to federal prison.

It will be interesting to watch political developments leading up to the Republican convention. What has appeared, up to now, to be a cut-and-dried affair may yet turn into a lively convention, thanks to the interest engendered by Stassen. In the final analysis, Mr. Eisenhower is expected to have his say, so his every move and statement will be weighed closely until the nominee is selected.

Official With Long Record Of Having Own Way Finally Meets His Waterloo

Robert Moses has changed the course of rivers, made decisions on how much water to allow New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. He has been known to ignore governors and state legislatures and to browbeat Congress all in one week.

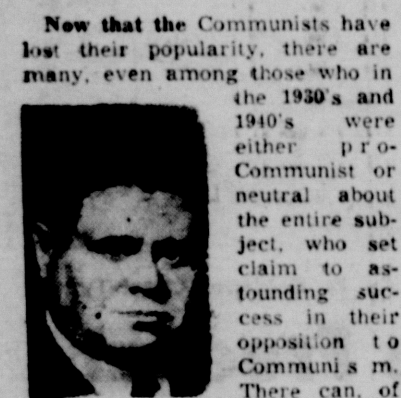

He has been appalled at times because the newspapers and the public have had the temerity to question one of his projects. In short, he's quite a guy.

But he finally has met his Waterloo. Last spring he gave a routine order to enlarge a parking lot in New York City's Central Park by taking over a part of a playground area.

Mothers of the children using it objected. They decided they would stop him. Mr. Moses was shocked. He pleaded, and finally thundered he would fight the issue out in every court.

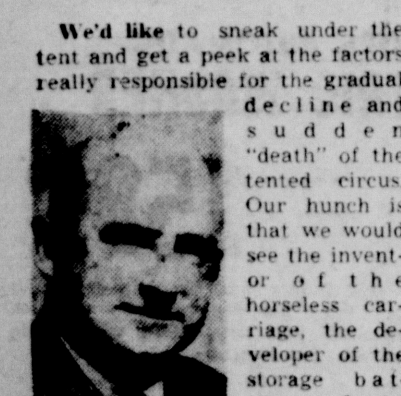

George Sokolsky Says....

Pravda Regards Dulles As 'Sworn Enemy' Of Communism, Admits He Finds Success

Now that the Communists have lost their popularity, there are many, even among those who in the 1930's and 1940's were either pro-Communist or neutral about the entire subject, who set claim to astounding success in their opposition to Communism. There can, of course, be no monopoly of righteousness. We are being told by some that Socialists are the most competent opponents of Communism, hoping presumably that all will forget the period of the United Front, which Khrushchev is now trying to resurrect. Such organizations as the League Against War and Fascism and the League for Peace and Democracy included more Socialists than Communists. The League for Peace and Democracy developed a membership of about 4,000,000 at a time when the highest estimate for the Communist Party was a little over 100,000. It was a United Front group that conducted the Communist side of the Spanish Civil War and that brought Czechoslovakia into the Soviet fold.

The Once Over

We'd like to sneak under the tent and get a peek at the factors really responsible for the gradual decline and sudden "death" of the tented circus. Our hunch is that we would see the inventor of the horseless carriage, the developer of the storage battery and the movie camera and video tape. In a way the painter of the first one-way street sign put the whammy on the circus poster.

Official organ of the Russian Communist Party: "The United States State Department, having abandoned diplomacy, has become the headquarters of a propaganda campaign launched by it around the personality cult. The aim of this campaign is to cast a shadow on the great ideas of Marxism-Leninism, to undermine the confidence of the working people in the first Socialist state in the world, the Soviet Union, and to introduce dissension and confusion within the ranks of the world's Communist and workers movement."

Of course, dissension and confusion were produced by Khrushchev's two speeches at the 20th Congress and by the speeches of Mikoyan and others, denouncing Stalin and admitting by implication that whatever anti-Communism anywhere in the world said against Stalin during the past 20 years, was only a hesitant approach to the horrible truth. If John Foster Dulles added much to the confusion among Communist and Socialist parties, most Americans will be proud of Dulles and not a little surprised that such praise of his efforts should first appear in "Pravda," for any indication of effectiveness in this fight is a measure of praise and a subject for congratulations. "Pravda" says:

"The facts show that in this case we are dealing not with a conventional propaganda campaign, of which during the years of the cold war the United States State Department organized quite a few. It is an extensively elaborated new political plan on which the United States reactionary circles are staking much."

—by H. I. Phillips

The earliest auto horn may have sounded the death knell for the steam callopie. Traffic jams, the strain of getting to the circus lots all in one piece, the movies and TV helped kazo the greatest show on earth, even admitting that the Variety Artists Guild and Teamsters Union in a way put on a "colossal spectacle" in which the circus was shot from a cannon, or sent down a perpendicular wire on its head.

The "big top" was trampled on, too, in a sense by the horses in a sensational bareback act by the equestrian team of "Hassie, Picket, Frontoffice and Labor." It left nobody with any sense of satisfaction. There isn't a union leader whose boyhood wasn't "Pravda" also says: "The United States statesmen who pretend to the leadership of the entire capitalist world have seized on the past mistakes and shortcomings in connection with Stalin's cult in the U. S. S. R., which were condemned by the 20th CPSU Congress and have been rectified already by the CPSU Central Committee."

One must rejoice over these compliments. Naturally we look forward to the breaking up of the enormous empire which Stalin had been building into a universal state. So that is what John Foster Dulles has been doing on his trips around the world: he has apparently been Communist-busting. Surely, Americans will not hate him for that. Look at what "Pravda" says:

"Similar tactics are being suggested by the ideologists of imperialism also for use against the Communist Parties in capitalist countries. They are trying to undermine the international ties of the world's workers' movement. It is the same Dulles, this sworn enemy of Communism, who is ready to swear that he is not against Communist Parties as such, but merely against the fact that they are 'too closely' connected with the Communist Party of the Soviet Union."

"Did Dulles ever say that he is not against Communist Parties? 'Pravda' must be making that up. There may be folks in the State Department who think only in terms of external affairs. Such men may say that only Russia is wicked but that the American Communist Party is just a political party like the Democrats and more so than the A. D. A. But I hope that Dulles never said that.

made lovelier by the circus and it would be hard to locate a picket in all America who didn't get up many a morning to see the show come in and cheer its every phase. We think Mr. Meany and Walter Reuther both were once swept by dreams of running away with a circus. And it's a cinch that John Ringling North, in whose vein runs circus blood, hated to fold the show.

We don't think that TV lessened the responsiveness of kids to a circus, despite many video circus programs. But it kept the parents from the old-time determination to go through the modern ordeal of reaching a circus lot. Grownups, after all, used to turn children again when the big top came to town. But this was before they could squat in a cozy chair and get a lot of free

Are Adults Or Youths Elvis Presley Backers

"And what did you think of Elvis Presley?" a young reader wants to know. "Wasn't it wonderful, those 18,000 signatures petitioning that Elvis become a TV regular?"

Uh-huh. Wonderful. But without half trying, some one could go for 36,000 petitioning the opposite. Young Master Presley is said to appeal to the wack and woe contingent, firing hep cats to uninhibited top-blowing as he makes "Heartbreak Hotel" wish it had modern plumbing. In short — "Elvis appeals to teen-agers, is a star because of teen-agers and will become a national idol-actor-hero because of teen-agers."

(The expression, teen-ager, is unfortunate enough without blaming Elvis on the young folk.)

Wonder just how much the young set had to do with putting Elvis atop the flagpole. Was it a teen-age agent who exploited him for the musical (sic) career? A teen-age director in Hollywood grabbed him for the latter's Sunday night sweepstakes? A teen-age comic (you know, funny funny) who booked him for his funny funny Tuesday night TV opus? And teen-age publicity boys who will sell anything that isn't nailed down if there is a buck in it for them because a buck is money ain't it?

Do the youngsters like Presley? Some do, some don't. Which is no newer news than some other young people who used to put splinters in their shoes doing the Charleston. Who tore Rudolph Valentino's shirts and jackets to ribbons in their zeal to — what? Frankly, the near insanity which drives these frenzied fans to mob celebrities is just One of Those Things I'll Never Understand. So you snatched a vest button recently attached to Frank Sinatra's haberdashery? What will you do with it? So Johnnie Ray walked past this very corner only five months ago? You intend to put up a monument or something?

The thing to notice in such exhibitions is the kind of person, not the age of person involved. Those whose taste is such as to work up a lather over Elvis Presley need all the more mature assistance they can get. But before making the young assume the burden of proof for him, maybe we should examine those who hauled him in from the hills — the "adults."

I think well of young people. Much too well, in fact, to believe they would have watched him through one wiggle, had tasteless adults not made avoidance high impossible.

Three yawns for Elvis. Hip-hip hoo-Ray. Johnnie, that is.

Try and Stop Me

An American TV executive, visiting Moscow, escaped the eagle eyes of his guide long enough to wander down one of the streets that hadn't been polished up for foreigners' inspection. One multi-dwelling apartment house looked as though it would collapse any minute. The American snorted. "This structure looks as though nobody ever tried to repair it!"

The janitor, who understood and spoke English, agreed readily. "You're right," he said with a hearty laugh. "It's just been built!"

Seth Parker and his bride, Betsy Lou, told friends their honeymoon had been dreamy — but they were riled by the sign they found on the back of their automobile the evening of their marriage day. It read "Amateur Night."

Dick Harrington knows one of those fussybuddies who's always making mountains out of molehills — and when he makes a mistake, of course, it's a butte.

mantling of the circus, hear the slapping of wood against wood as the skinny wooden seats were taken down and drink in the melody of wonderful sounds... creaking wheels, rattling chains, stomping workhorses, grunting roasts, a distant locomotive whistle and the buzz of kitydids.

One out of seven Americans work on a farm today. Less than a century ago, eight out of 10 did.

Thruway To Take Course Through South Stroudsburg

ACCOMPANYING map shows the route the proposed Stroudsburg Thruway will take through South Stroudsburg. The interchange connecting it with Park Ave-Seventh St. and with Park Fifth St. is also illustrated.

The map was prepared by Gannett, Fleming, Cuddry and Carpenter, Inc., consulting engineers, for the State Highway Department. It will be reviewed by the department and also by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, which will help finance the project.

Due to the considerations of unsuitable terrain and existing structures, the engineers said it is necessary to utilize Leg. Rte. 45054 (Broad St.) as well as existing U. S. Route 611 (Park Ave.) to provide for all the necessary turning movements at this interchange.

Grade
The Thruway descends on a 0.5 percent grade and passes under the Seventh St. Bridge and Broad St. The viaduct was completed in December, 1934, and is in good condition, the engineers noted.

Any connection with existing U. S. 611 in the northern quadrant of this intersection would require extensive structure ramps or replacement of the viaduct. This has dictated that the ramps to the north of the Thruway connect with L. R. 45054, said the engineers.

Ramp A is located in the southwest quadrant and provides a connection for traffic eastbound on the Thruway to turn north into Stroudsburg business district. This is accomplished by means of a left turn with stop at the intersection of Ramp A and existing U. S. 611. The maximum grade is five percent on the portion adjacent to Ramp B.

Ramp B picks up traffic from existing U. S. 611 bound for the east on the Thruway. Due to the volume of the turning movements involved, including left turns against traffic, the engineers recommended that a portion of U. S. 611 be widened sufficiently to include a standby lane for those vehicles making left turns.

Connections
Ramps C and D connect with L. R. 45054 to accommodate other turning movement between the Thruway and Stroudsburg business district. Ramp C provides for southbound traffic from Stroudsburg desiring to proceed westward on the Thruway. Its five percent grade parallels that of the main line.

Ramp D also parallels the main line on a five percent grade as it serves westbound traffic on the Thruway with an exit north or south on L. R. 45054.

Purpose of the Thruway is to relieve the traffic congestion in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. The engineers, in their report, said the arrangements just described will change the traffic pattern in the business district of Stroudsburg. The overall effect will provide relief from the serious congestion which now exists especially at the five-point intersection of Broad, Ann, N. Fifth and Ann Sts.

Stroudsburg Pool To Hold Carnival

STROUDSBURG Playground will present its annual Water Carnival on Sunday at 4 p. m. It was announced last night by Mahlon Serfass, director of the pool. The carnival will be entitled "Summertime '56".

The program will outline the work done at the pool this Summer. Final rehearsal for the event will take place today at 6 p. m. Sunday's program will open with clown divers, to the tune of "Good Old Summertime." Demonstrations by the beginners, intermediates, divers, junior life saving and senior life saving classes will take place.

Beginners
The beginners will operate under the strains of "By the Sea". Boys and girls will share the "Standing on the Corner" number. Other numbers include "Wayward Winds", "Rock and Roll", "Summertime" and "Finale".

Awards will be presented at the show and the presentation will end the morning activities at the pool. From now on the pool will open at 1 p. m.

Waring Workshop Presents Show

DELAWARE WATER GAP—Touchstone of all Waring productions—the free flow of enthusiasm between audience and performers—was very much in evidence last night at the show given at the Fred Waring Music Workshop by students and alumni as a tribute to Fred Waring on his 40th anniversary with the Pennsylvanians and the 10th anniversary of the Workshop itself.

What can be accomplished in four days' time when distinguished music students work intensively under competent direction was demonstrated in the musical tribute. The whole production—orchestra, choruses, arrangements, lighting, solos and choreography—had been put together in just four days by the performers under the direction of Dr. Earl Willhoite.

Balads
Popular ballads, spirituals, hymns, onert numbers, solos and music from Waring's first Glee Club were woven together for the production, with Fred Waring, himself, led from the audience to conduct the final number. He paid tribute to Dr. Willhoite and the performers for the show, which he pointed out would ordinarily take from six weeks to six months to prepare.

During these past four days distinguished musicians from all over the country—music teachers, sym-

John Pope, Tobyhanna, Succumbs At Late Home

TOBYHANNA—John H. Pope, 69, died at his home here last night after an illness.

Born in Tobyhanna, he was a son of the late John D. and Barbara Gleogler Pope and was employed as a foreman by the Lynch Corp. for many years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Vincetta Strunk Pope; five sons, Robert, Stanley and Raymond, all of Tobyhanna; Wilbur, East Stroudsburg, and Earl, Australia; four daughters, Mrs. Catherine Hay, Mrs. Geraldine Kirkhuff and Mrs. Frances Hochrine, Tobyhanna; and Mrs. Lorraine Baird, Philadelphia; three sisters, Mrs. Agnes Edlund, Long Island; Mrs. Jacob Switzer, Shickshiny, and Mrs. Katie Curral, New York City; three brothers, Joseph and Fred H. Pope, Tobyhanna, and 17 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Tobyhanna Methodist Church. Rev. Daniel Brodhead will officiate and burial will be in Laurelwood Cemetery, Stroudsburg. Friends may call at the home Saturday night and phony orchestra members, conservatory students and choir directors, had memorized the music and produced the show in its entirety.

Waring introduced the director, Dr. Willhoite, who is also director of the Workshops; Ernest Farmer, director of Shawnee Press, playing trumpet; Wallace Hornbrook, who had made the arrangements; Peter Kiefer, doubling on drums; and many of the key personnel of The Pennsylvanians who had been working on the production.

THIS LITTLE LADY and her pony will exhibit at the Craig's Meadow Pony Show to be held Friday at 8 p.m. Miss Jean Yetter will show her pony in hula costumes—and perhaps do a hula dance too?

Viewing the Screens

CHANNELS 2 AND 10 will present three shows tonight beginning at 9 p. m., with "Fear" on "Crusader," where Matt Anders is responsible for a young European war orphan emigrating to the United States for adoption by a transfer friend of Anders. When the adoptive father is killed by racketeers trying to take over a transfer union, Matt must convince the orphan youth that violence and brute force are not the foundations of life in America.

Following this at 9:30, Phyllis Thaxter stars in the role of an actress who fights sorrow and dependency when her husband, played by Donald Curtis, is reported killed in a plane crash, in "Dara" on "Playhouse of Stars." When her husband returns to life and confronts her with the charge of attempted homicide, love turns to hate between her and her co-conspirator, Gerald Mohr.

At 10, MacDonald Carey stars as Ralph Clark in the story of a man afflicted by a chain of unfortunate circumstances in "The Plugged Nickel" in "Undercurrent."

Summer Feature Festival presents "War of the Wilds" the story of an oil promoter and a quiet, sincere cowboy who rival for the affections of a lovely young girl. Starring John Wayne on Ch. 10.

Sports

Two games at 7:55: The Dodgers vs. the Cubs on Ch. 9; and the Giants play the Cards on Ch. 11.

At 10 p. m., welterweights Miguel Barrios, of Puerto Rico and Kid Amahuac, of Mexico, will clash in the Garden . . . on Chs. 3, 4 and 8.

The new officers are Charles R. Baker, of 214 Smith St., East Stroudsburg, president; Paul M. Crown Jr., Shawnee-on-Deleware, vice president; Frederick Notz, of Grandview St., East Stroudsburg, secretary, and Joseph P. DeSanto, RDS, Stroudsburg, treasurer.

Art Show Draws Many Interests

By Nancy W. Hebard

ON ENTERING the new three-man exhibit at the Gallery Art Club in the Famous Department store, the casual visitor is immediately assailed by the paintings of Robin Kilgour. Large, percussive, young, imperious they demand and ensnare the attention. Magnetized toward them, the viewer is both impaired and challenged by their authoritative statement and their insistence upon reality.

Even the most uninitiated of art lovers is accustomed now to what is loosely defined as "modern art"—and these pictures, semi-abstract and cubistic in form, do not startle because they contest the known art forms of today; it is their assurance of youth, its self-sufficiency and certain dominance, stamping itself without doubt that is so compelling. Each painting, coolly calculated, executed in bright, controlled color, importunes the onlooker, proclaims the hard, exacting fact of existence, an existence undisturbed by human hopes or dreams.

Such cerebral and insistent projection may be challenging, frightening, exciting depending upon the personality of the viewer. Caught by the implacable assertion of "Reclining Figure," the eye shifts to the more relaxed—but equally confident—"Studio" moves back to the linear drama of "Fire Escape," and the ego weakens before what is seen.

Walter Joins Debate On Flood Bill

WASHINGTON, July 26—Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) spoke in behalf of the multi-billion-dollar flood insurance bill during debate which preceded House passage on Wednesday.

As approved by the House and returned to the Senate for action on amendments, the measure calls for setting up a seven and one-half billion dollar flood insurance fund, including a government-guaranteed loan program.

Remarks
In his remarks, Walter said that unless one experiences the ravages of a flood, it is difficult to realize the myriad of kinds of losses that are suffered by the owners of property.

the thesis is quite different—mystic, persuasive, intangible—yet also succinctly portraying another aspect of our lives.

One sheds the harsh commands of life, one enters the psychic area of an existence bordered by half-dream, half reality. There is a feeling of the Orient in these paintings and drawings, a delicate understatement, a balance between necessity and desire. Questions are left incomplete, time and area expand, and the mood is always pensive. Although the logical mind may protest, there is a feeling that somehow one is revisiting a familiar land.

"The Shape of a City," No. 1 and No. 2, "Noble Futility—Colliery No. 2" and "Wharf" at once abstract and impressionistic in style, particularly draw the viewer into this transitory world. To this observer, only the gentle "Portrait of Chia-In" does not quite perpetuate the mood, and this because in context, at least, it subtly produces conscious actuality.

Turning towards the entrance of the gallery, one sees the paintings of Josef Anthony Dukinas—and again reality shifts—and one becomes a part of the everyday world we know and in which most of, perhaps, feel more secure. Bright, uncomplicated, direct, the paintings evoke well-being and content. A simplicity and love of life, a sparkling technique, unburdened by formal adherence to academic law, gives a lift to this work.

Here one does not ponder or fight back—the relaxed, sensual pleasure of observing nature and the neighboring scene is enough. Even the titles "Autumn at Wild Cat Creek," "Garden Iris," "January Night," "Gulph Mills Street, Springtime" jar the wandering mind to recognition of beauty directly at hand.

Action Of British Draws Query

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Nobody can read the speeches in Britain's foreign affairs debate this week without wondering whether Russia is making progress with her smile offensive.

Anthony Eden announced Britain would adopt a freindlier, more flexible attitude toward Russia. Hugh Gaitskell, the Labor party leader, has accepted the theory that the hydrogen bomb has made a general war next to impossible. Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said there may be a trend toward freedom in Russia.

American officials have been swinging back and forth between expressions of hope and warnings against relaxation of defenses. Both Britain and the United States profess to be in the midst of a reappraisal of policy in the light of developments in Russia. Secretary Dulles has gone so far as to attribute changes in Russia to the pressures of Allied policy, and to express considerable hope.

Counted Out
He has pointed out, however, that the Kremlin is still occupied by the same people who worked with Stalin, that they show no signs of liberating the satellites, and that they have not produced proof of the sincerity of their smiles.

Indeed, recent asides by Nikita Khrushchev have done much to enhance long-standing doubts as to what goes on behind the smile.

Both Britain and the United States are moving to reduce their military manpower before the policy appraisals are complete. Part of this is based on basic military interpretations of atomic field weapons. Part of it is budgetary politics in both cases.

And part of it seems to be a risky interpretation of what the reappraisal will show when complete. Actually, these reappraisals are nothing more than keeping up with the times, a process which has been going on almost continually for years.

Both the United States and Britain are making plans for reduction of their forces in Europe, forces which were allotted as guarantees, especially between France and Germany, when Europe was persuaded to organize the Western European Union in lieu of a European Defense Community.

Eden was careful to point out that Britain's reappraisal was not a unilateral one, but was being made with her allies and within her alliances.

But it is a time of danger, when the estimates of men involve the fates of nations. Anything that would reduce in any way the power of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would be a success for Russia's chief foreign policy.

Walter Joins Debate On Bill

ate insurance companies have not provided insurance in these kinds of losses heretofore, but recent events have indicated the necessity for insurance in this field. The rates would be prohibitive but for governmental participation.

To those who oppose anything that puts the Government in competition with private business, and I am one of them, I feel that the 5-year trial period provided for offers entire safeguards against an invasion of a field in which private enterprise can adequately operate.

"Wealthy corporations and individuals can survive a major loss such as flood causes but for the small-business man and people of moderate circumstances a flood means the irrecoverable loss of his all with little or no chance for a fresh start. During the trial period provided for in the bill those charged with administering the program and the Congress can and will make whatever adjustments experience indicates are necessary. Those of us who have studied this problem and who have attempted to bring about a solution thereof are well pleased with the bill that is now before us and I hope it will be enacted into law."

Commissioners Vote To Borrow $15,000

MONROE COUNTY Commissioners yesterday voted to borrow another $15,000 to meet payrolls and current bills.

Board Chairman John R. Lesoiné said the new loan will bring the total borrowed to date to $87,500. The loans are to be repaid with receipt of tax revenues this fall.

The commissioners have borrowed a total $72,500 for the general fund, and an additional $25,000 for the institutional district. However, the board later transferred $10,000 from that account to the general fund.

Short Term

The new short term note will be negotiated with the East Stroudsburg National Bank.

Meanwhile, the commissioners reported that surplus food will be distributed beginning at 10 a. m. today at the courthouse to recipients other than the families of Ronson workers. Lesoiné said the distribution may continue tomorrow morning, if it is not completed this afternoon.

Pennsylvania Farmers Face Heavy Financial Losses Because Of Heavy Summer Rain Storms

HARRISBURG, July 26 (AP)—The state Agriculture Department reported yesterday Pennsylvania farmers face heavy financial loss because of wet weather preventing harvesting of hay and small grains.

The department said also that the build-up of heavy rainfall during June and July has created conditions favorable to epidemics of late blight. Spraying of potatoes against blight has been retarded by rain and wet ground.

Rainfall last week ranged from 1-3 inch in Pittsburgh to nearly 3 inches in the Williamsport area. Northwestern counties had light rains, moderate to heavy elsewhere. The forecast for this week is 1 inch in western Pennsylvania, 3 inch in the eastern part of the state from showers and scattered thunderstorms.

Surveys

Federal-state surveys for the week ended Monday showed it to be the second consecutive week of cool and cloudy weather dominated by frequent showers. Field work was retarded with harvest of wheat and hay practically at a standstill.

Continued wet weather may cause further lodging of wheat and possibilities of grain sprouting in the shocks are great, the survey report showed.

Some barley and winter oats remain to be harvested. Corn and other crops are growing well but need warmer nights for best development. As a result of poor curing weather much hay remains to be cut in northern counties. Poor quality of hay is anticipated due to over maturity. Pastures are good to excellent in most areas.

Lutheran Church To Hold Forum

"NON-CONFORMITY" will be the topic of a young people's forum to be held Aug. 6 in Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

The forum will be highlighted by an address by Reginald Reynolds, a British Quaker who worked in India with Mahatma Gandhi in his passive resistance campaigns.

Sponsor

Sponsored by the Friends Work Camp in East Stroudsburg and local youth groups, the program is described by leaders as an attempt to answer such questions as "Is non-conformity essential to progress?" "Should rights of non-conformists be upheld?" and "When is non-conformity justified?"

The public is invited to attend.

Old Home Day To Be Held

THORNHURST—The annual Old Home Day will be held Saturday, sponsored by the WSCS of the Methodist Church.

A ham supper will be served at 5 p.m., and colored slides of last year's flood will be shown at 8.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Artistic and domestic interests, handling funds and beverages highly sponsored. Extra caution urged handling dangerous tools, machinery, in building, etc. Be sensible all day.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Your Venus, the Moon and Jupiter, well aspected, encourage personal interests, artistic professions, financial matters. If handled wisely, don't seek favors if you have not earned them. Be happy.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Your Mercury's position suggests that you think and plan calmly so that you won't be easily upset or make the needless errors often caused by haste. A fine day for private interests.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—This is a period for action and achievement but not for recklessness with money, dangerous machinery, tools, etc. Finish uncompleted matters so you will feel at rest over the week-end.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—You urge sensible care in most matters, especially when it comes to saving money. There will be more precious times for investing and spending. Watch your budget but don't skimp on family needs. Be cheerful.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Heed advice to Gemini. Day can be a fit all who wisely allocate their time and duties. Take some time for relaxation, wholesome fun in free hours.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Absorb notions to Taurus. Happy influences from your Venus, Jupiter and Moon for fresh accomplishments and benefits if you are up to par and do your best in all obligations.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Mixed vibrations but, for the most part, they are generous and helpful, especially for familiar matters and those in which your ingenuity and skill will be helpful. Personal affairs and health measures sponsored.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—You are in a promising position and this coupled with other favorable aspects can bring success, pleasure and fresh hope for the future generally. Specially advised: finesse, skill, thoroughness.

December 24 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Some restrictions where quick advancement or getting immediate results from efforts are concerned, but this does not mean the day is not favorable or responsive to smart management, sound judgment. Keep trying.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—You may have your ups and downs but they won't be too annoying nor offer too much opposition. Day is fine for personal and family affairs, for study and putting style into your work or tasks.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Grand Neptune aspects favor personal endeavors and those activities which require elevations. Healthful entertainment, amusements and sports, dealing in table delicacies, foods highly favored.

You Born Today are engaging, active, clever at your work, especially if it is in "your line"—selling, stage or screen, managing a large concern or business endeavor. You are also able at handling, are mechanically inclined; make top military or naval personnel; are brave, likable. Leaders seldom which difficult or hazardous tasks; are witty entertainers and actors. You may take yourself into difficult situations but can usually talk yourself out again. Curb moodiness, over-sensitiveness.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Vet Training Program Hits Finish Line

THE LARGEST veterans' training program the world has ever known ended Wednesday for all but a small handful of World War II veterans.

It is the 12-year-old World War II GI Bill—a law that has given more than 7,800,000 World War II veterans a chance to catch up with the years taken out of their lives by military service.

Here in Pennsylvania, Bernard A. O'Hara, Manager of the Wilkes-Barre regional office of the Veterans Administration, released statistics to show how veterans in this state availed themselves of the opportunity offered by a grateful government.

Half

Of the 1,164,000 veterans living in Pennsylvania, 587,700 or 51 per cent entered training, according to O'Hara. This 587,700 can be further divided as follows:

Those attending institutions of higher learning: 134,500 or 23 per cent of those entering training.

Those attending schools or taking courses under college levels: 327,800 or 56 per cent of those entering training.

Those taking institutional on-the-job training: 13,200 or two per cent of the trainees.

Those taking on-the-job training: 112,200 or 19 per cent of the trainees.

Cub Scout Pack Holds First Banquet

Tobyhanna—Cub Scout Pack 91 of Tobyhanna and Mount Pocono held its first charter banquet Tuesday night at the Signal Corps Depot here.

Dr. Frances B. McGarry, East Stroudsburg, district chairman of organization and extension, presented the charter, and John E. Piontek, vice president, accepted it in behalf of the Tobyhanna Lions Club, sponsoring organization.

Mrs. Richard DeHaven, representing Patriotic Order of America, presented an American flag to the pack. The pack flag was presented by Lt. Col. Paul S. Balas of Mount Pocono PTA.

CWO Walter W. Wright, cubmaster, and his assistant, Robert Fairservice, conducted the award presentation. The benediction was by Rev. E. Harner, Mount Pocono Methodist Church.

Committee

Pack committee members are Lt. Col. John C. Woodburn, George P. Reitz, Lyman A. Shelton, Brian B. Walker, Lt. Paul Porter, SWO Carl C. Strickland, Lt. Col. Balas.

Maj. James Howard is the neighborhood commissioner and William M. Flaherty, institutional representative.

The following is a list of the den mothers, assistant den mothers and den chiefs, named in that order:

Den 1, Mount Pocono, Mrs. Robert Angster, Mrs. Paul Balas, John Cullen, BSA Troop 55, Swiftwater.

Den 2, Mount Pocono, Mrs. B. Walker, Mrs. Charles Whitlow, Troop 95.

Den 3, Tobyhanna Village, Mrs. Walter W. Wright, Mrs. Carl Strickland, Peter Foy, Troop 91, Tobyhanna.

Den 4, Tobyhanna, Mrs. Stanford Schane, Mrs. Clark Smith, James Frutcher, Troop 91.

Den 5, Mrs. Shirley Chawara, Mrs. Jerry Pope, Frank Moore, Troop 91.

Officially registered as cubs are these boys: Paul Reitz, Stanley R. Schane, Thomas G. Serfass, Lyman Shelton, Terry Smith, Carl C. Strickland Jr., Edmund A. Strickland, Lynn J. Strosahl, Ronald G. Vashishan, William T. Walker, Alexander W. Whitlow, James M. Woodburn, William W. Wright, Richard A. Zepel, James W. Kelly, Larry J. Pope, Robert G. Neupert, Stephen Morris, John A. Moore, Kenneth G. Miller, Robert C. Angster, John T. Balas, Jasper Beebe, James E. V. Cadue, Robert L. Carey, John N. Chanaan, Edward Davenport, John H. Davis, Robert W. Fairservice, Robert E. Franks, Neil D. Fritz, Elwood T. Hay, Ronald N. Keiper, Erman D. King, Bruce M. Knecht, Daniel M. Knecht, Ralph M. Knecht, Richard D. Kohn, William A. Keiper.

Many Pastors Worry That Secondary Affairs May Becloud Primary Duties Of Churches

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, AP Religion Writer

"SWAMPED!" That's the way many pastors feel today in the midst of the modern-day whirl of church activities.

The tempo—and the tempo—of the job has increased.

Churches have taken on a myriad accumulation of chores, ranging from special week-day religious classes and personal problem counseling to camps, clubs and countless conferences.

In a way, it's a sign of vigor, but some ministers are worried about the heavy-packed schedule, lest the secondary functions becloud the primary ones.

The church's worst enemy, says Dr. John Heuss of New York's Trinity Episcopal Church, is its own "day-to-day triviality"—its round of fund drives, bazaars, luncheons, dinners and bake sales.

All this, he said, is "admirable but it is not religion."

"I'm Prepared" The Rev. Dr. Hugh Hartshorne of Yale Divinity School says the churches have kept adding "odds and ends of new responsibilities until they resemble a modern drugstore or shopping center . . .

Clergymen, he adds, are "ill prepared for the tasks they actually have to do"—which have been extended in this country far beyond religious duties.

In Audubon, Iowa, recently, the Rev. Grant Elford, then pastor of a flourishing Methodist church, resigned and left the ministry to go into the insurance business, declaring:

"Pressures on a minister's family, particularly his children, prevent them from living a normal life."

"A minister not only must be a pastor, he must also be an administrator, a counselor, a conciliator, a salesman, a psychologist, an educator and a community and civic leader."

"The demands upon his time are almost unlimited."

A noted European churchman, Bishop Elvind Berggrav of Norway, after a visit here some time ago, suggested that American churches in a way resemble "people's clubs."

He said the situation—much different from Europe, where the churches are more aloof from social activities—contains both advantages and risks.

The risk, he said, is that the churches become so involved in worldly affairs that they lose their distinctive character, while the advantage is that they have closer contact with people's everyday lives.

Writing

A mother wrote in the non-denominational Christian Herald that "our church is destroying our home" by its constant, week-long rush of meetings, recreation, fellowships and other activities.

"It is swallowing our family whole," she wrote. "The entire week is a race between home and the church. Just how much actual religion anyone gets out of the race is a question . . ."

Barrett Boy Scouts Hold Honor Court

CANADENSIS — Barrett Troop 89, Boy Scouts of America, this week met at Promised Land State Park to hold its second Court of Honor of this charter year. Approximately 50 of the local residents of Barrett Township gathered for play and a basket supper before paying honor at 7 p.m.

The court was opened by Scoutmaster B. E. Varvel of Canadensis leading the parents and boys in the pledge of allegiance to the flag and welcoming all parents, friends, and leaders. Varvel introduced the committeemen and Joe Vogt of Mountainhome, chairman of the troop committee, presented scouts Robert Sickler, James Brush, James Bender, and Charles Hewling with their Tenderfoot badges. Varvel presented the miniature scout pin to the parents of these boys who took the parents' scout oath to support their sons and the scout movement.

Vogt and Varvel then swore in the two top troop leaders. First Class Scout John Taylor, son of Mrs. Helen Taylor of Canadensis, was sworn into the office of Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. Scout John Hays, son of Mr. Levi Hayes of Mountainhome was sworn into the office of Senior Patrol Leader and both boys took their place at the troop leaders table.

First Class

Scouts Herman Taylor, son of Mrs. Margaret Taylor of Canadensis and John Taylor were presented with their first class badges and their mothers were presented with their miniature first class pins and congratulated by Varvel for pushing forward the scout movement.

Second class badges were presented by troop treasurer Thomas Lewis of Mountainhome to the following scouts: James Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hardy of Mountainhome; William Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thomas of Mountainhome; Richard Krummell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Krummell of Canadensis; James McCleary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCleary of Mountainhome and John Hayes, son of Levi Hayes of Mountainhome.

The court closed with the present-

Woodlands In County Need Repair

MANY woodland areas and plantations in Monroe, Pike and Northampton counties are in great need of an improvement or selective cutting in order to produce the ultimate in timber production. Pine and spruce plantations have become infiltrated with undesirable species such as Gray Birch, Red Maple and Aspen. The undesirable species crowd the desirable species causing poor form, retarded growth and may eventually cause the desirable species to die.

Pure plantations of pine and spruce also need thinning and pruning in order to produce good crop trees for the final harvest.

Mixed

Woodland acreage of mixed hardwoods, and coniferous species should also be managed in much the same way. Undesirable species dominate desirable species on many woodland acres. By making a selective cutting the growth form and quality of the remaining trees are greatly accelerated by the same basis for weeding your garden or any other crop.

The value of property where proper woodland management is practiced is increased. Watershed areas are improved along with a better and more suitable habitat for wildlife. These are just a few examples of what takes place when a proper cutting is made and good timber management is practiced.

Local Girl In Norway Finds Common Ground For Laughter With New "Family"

(In a special dispatch to The Daily Record, Miss Helen Donaldson of Timberhill Farm, Cresco, and an English honor student at Pembroke College of Brown University, has written of her first days in a Norwegian home where she is taking part in "The Experiment of International Living." More detailed account of these first days follow in excerpts from her letters to her mother, Mrs. R. D. Donaldson, and further dispatches to the newspaper are expected.)

Oslo, Norway—"We hope you'll like to be with us; everybody of us think it will be very funny and interesting to have an American girl here." . . . so wrote my Norwegian "sister" in a warm and friendly letter I received just before leaving the Poconos. She meant "lots of fun," of course (I hope!)

My Norwegian "sister" lives with her family on the shore of the Oslo fjord, about six miles from Oslo. A week ago I arrived in Oslo with twelve other American girls and there met my "family" for the first time. We Americans had come to Europe under the auspices of an organization called "The Experiment in International Living." Now celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary, the organization was founded with the object of promoting international friendship and understanding on the personal level. This year, 700 young Americans have gone to countries all over the world in groups of approximately ten people, including an American leader who is familiar with the particular country to which he is going. For each American group there is also a leader who is a citizen of the country. Before the Americans arrive he has placed each one of them in a family. Each American lives with his family for about a month and then all the Americans, accompanied by their "brothers" and "sisters" tour the country, utilizing a combination of all types of transportation—from trains and buses to bicycles and hiking. At the end of the trip, each American returns to his family for a farewell visit, after which he has about a week to go anywhere he wishes to.

Strange Food—New Friends

And so for almost two weeks I have been living in Europe—not traveling through, no touring, but living with Europeans. I have learned to eat meals at what to me are strange times; I have learned to eat and enjoy what to me are strange foods; I have learned to live happily without a car. I am learning how and what these good friends of mine think—and what they think of us. But most of all I am learning that these people are just people, each an individual, and very much like an exceptionally nice American family. Perhaps most of us go to Europe looking for differences. I have not found these differences. Perhaps for that reason I have not found my trip to Europe to be thrilling and exciting in just the way I had always dreamed that it would be. Perhaps for that reason I still find difficult to believe that I am actually in Europe. But what I have found is something of much greater value than the passing thrill, something much more deeply satisfying than the memory of looking at a famous building or statue. As the usual tourist is unable to do, I have found and become a part of that which is really Europe—the people. And I am convinced that this is the only way to come to Europe—not with Americans, but with Europeans.

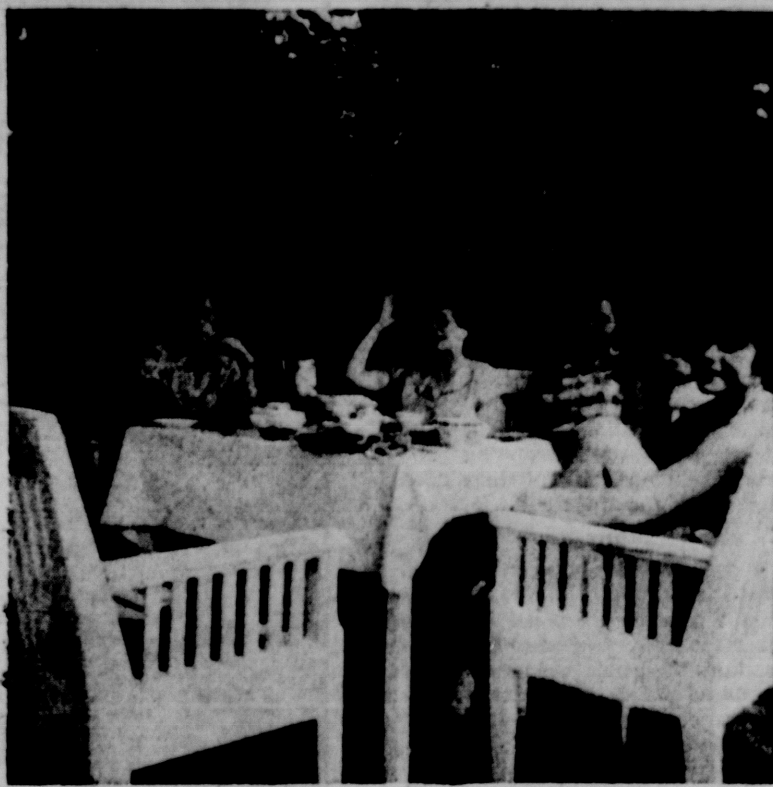

Shipboard Talks

There has been an excellent and fascinating group of orientation lectures given and I've gone to two or three a day: Sweden's Neutrality, NATO's Problems, Education in the U. S. and Europe, What Happens When You Marry a European, Contemporary European Literature, European Morals, Communism vs. Democratic Socialism, Europe Behind the Iron Curtain, Anti-Americanism, etc. We have also a two-hour group meeting every day, discussing Norway, learning Norwegian phrases, etc. All this pretty well takes care of the day, and at night there are movies, singing on deck, we put on a skit one night, and always Gypsy music or Dixieland.

Explain "Jello"

It just took about five minutes to write the above phrases in Norwegian as Bjorn dictated them to me. At this rate, I shall soon be speaking or at least understanding something—and we shall probably all be constantly talking in English!

Mr. M. just said that I must give you greetings from them, and tell you that they are very satisfied with me! The whole family is extremely nice. Mr. M. is very friendly and kind, and easy to get along with. He has grey hair, with a receding hairline, a strong face, dark eyebrows, and is of about medium height. Every one of them has a terrific sense of humor, which is very fortunate. Mrs. M. is short and a little plump, with short, curly, brown hair. Her English is perhaps the best I have heard, but she is a perfect dork. Randi (18) looks the least Scandinavian of anyone. She has short, very dark brown hair—curls in back, pinned up on her head, brown eyes and dark eyebrows. Her skin is dark, or very tanned. She is well-rounded, wears low-necked sweaters, and gold ring earrings—has a flashing smile and eyes—in short, looks almost Spanish. Her little sister's (15) name I still do not know, but she is very cute, little, slight, blonde (pony tail), blue eyes, perky face, a little shy.

Bjorn (21) is not the Viking god I had pictured, for he is little taller than I and looks quite young. However, he is extremely nice and has been very good to me. He, too, is blonde and slight. He is a student, which is quite a distinction in Norway—it seems he has passed extremely difficult examinations qualifying him to attend the university, which is free to those few qualified.

There are books and paintings all over the house. It has a really lovely location—there are trees all around and it is very close to the fjord with a beautiful view of it from the porch where we eat.

Little Differences

All sorts of little different things: all the lamp shades have tops on them; the silverware is different—coffee is always served with a demi-tasse spoon—there is nothing comparable to our teaspoon; the dessert spoon is placed at the top of the place-setting; a soup spoon is the same shape as a dessert spoon, but larger; the napkin is placed on the right or left of the plate; corner fireplaces, which I have never seen before, are common. Cigarettes in Norway cost about twice as much as in the States. We have just gotten through having coffee and pastry, which in this family is the only thing which differs from our meal schedule. Dinner is earlier and then this about nine. After the meal, you say, "Tak for maten," (thanks for the food, literally). The "en" on "mat" is the "the."

On Saturday, the whole group, 13 Americans and 13 Norwegians, are gathering here, because it is so pretty, for a party. Both Henrik Meedon and Nancy (the leaders) called me today to make sure everything is all right.

But Pin-Ups, Too

Mr. M. came right on the boat and found me—the whole family met me and though we were an hour early, they were there. Mr. M. didn't go to work today because of me. And Bjorn (Scandinavian Air Lines) works shifts and was off today. They did not eat breakfast first—they were too excited! They had the Norwegian flag flying on a big flagpole in my honor and a small American flag on the breakfast table. Our room is plastered with pictures of American movie stars—all four walls! And Bjorn is a jazz fan!

We saw nothing of Holland but Rotterdam—just walked around—went into a bakery where they spoke no English, and had coffee in a sidewalk cafe. The train trip, second class, was very long. We had a 22-year-old German girl in our compartment, the wife of a sailor, who bought me coffee by taking advantage of my lack of understanding of the language and the money! Copenhagen—the Paris of the North—is delightful. Two Danish boys took us around in two separate groups. The one I was with was an Experimenter to the U. S. in '33. The other was the grandson of Georg Jensen. We had lunch at Tivoli, the very famous amusement park.

And then Oslo!

" . . . I really love it here and I really love my family. They are all simply terrific! Herr M. is an attorney in Oslo. In the States, can any lawyer take a case in any court, including the highest? My little sister's name is Kari. . . . On Saturday, all the Experimenters and their hosts or hostesses came here for a meeting and party. Two of Bjorn's friends came, too, both also named Bjorn. The three call themselves The Three Bears, since that is what Bjorn means. (It is not equivalent to John—that is Jan.) Also, two Norwegian girls came.

I think the three girls, Solveig, Karin, and Randi, and the three boys form sort of a gang. I have not quite figured out the relationship, but I gather the group is roughly divided into three couples. However, Randi says it is not serious for they are all too young. And here I am, right in the middle of this and getting lots of attention! Of course, it is only because I am American and different, but it is very nice.

Bjorn M. and Bjorn B. have been teaching me Norwegian—maybe I shall know something when I get through. . . . Yesterday, Bjorn P. had his father's car and he, Bjorn M., Randi, Kari, and I went sight-seeing—first to Holmenkollen, the world-famous ski jump where the Winter Olympics were held in 1952. A ski museum is also there. The view of Oslo and the fjord from this spot was very beautiful. Then we went to Frognersteren, a rustic and quaint restaurant, where we sat outside and had coffee and apple cake. From there, we went to Oslo where Bjorn P. left us and we met Bjorn B. We walked about, saw the palace, the Storting (parliament building), and then went to another outdoor restaurant where we had Norwegian beer and talked some more. It was a great deal of fun.

Laughter In The House
There is much laughter in this house and in the young people—it is very good and very pleasant. I feel completely at home. I have tried to be very good about food, but sometimes it is hard! I've made myself eat fried eggs since there are other things which are simply too much—such as goat cheese and raw salt herring. But I have eaten mackerel and whiting fish and liked them very much. It is quite cool here, though today in the sun it was actually hot. At 11 p.m., the western sky still has a glow and by 1:30 a.m. it is getting light again.

On Midsummer's Eve, June 23, it was light all night. That is quite a celebration here. I still find it difficult to believe that I am in Europe. Except for the language and a couple of little customs, this family could be any exceptionally nice American family. And the young people are just young people. It is a beautiful country. They have quite an inferiority complex about it, though because it is so small. . . .

All-Night Hike
"It is 11:30 and I have sent the family to bed—all except Bjorn who is out on the town with the other two Bjorns. They tell me they have gotten no sleep since I came, so I insisted that they go to bed. I never wake up until about this time. I am the B type, while Randi is the A type, who are widest awake in the morning. This is not serious, though! It is so wonderful here, and they are all such wonderful people. It is a treat to simply relax and enjoy life and know that you are learning by just having fun. I can say the alphabet now (it has three extra vowels, so hard for me to pronounce), count, recite the days of the week and the months, and have picked up many small phrases. I am using

Area Women At Conference Of Church Guild

Representatives of many of the Evangelical and Reformed Churches of Monroe County are attending a four-day leadership training conference of the women's Guild at Cedar Crest College, Allentown.

More than 300 women from the eastern five-state area are attending. Miss Myrtle Applegate of New York City is speaking each night at vesper services, and Rev. Paul E. Strauch, Washington, D. C. is conducting the morning Bible Study on the Sermon on the Mount.

Central theme of the conference is "The Church: Our Household of Faith" with subdivisions of the theme discussed in seven classes held during the afternoon. Christian family life, the meaning of and planning for worship; how to be an effective church woman; United Church Women and You, the E-R Church, Yesterday, today and tomorrow, and Mission Field are among the topics.

Mrs. Fred Quig, Stroudsburg, president of the Mountain Regional Women's Guild, is in charge of registration for the various classes. Other members of Zion Reformed Church, Stroudsburg, attending are Mrs. Claude Beidler, Mrs. Mel Dunn, Mrs. Clementine Croasdale and Mrs. Russell Drake.

Other Reformed churches in the county also have delegates present.

On Trip West

George K. Rusk, who has been transferred to Silver City, New Mexico, has left for his new post. His father, Daniel Rusk, of Stroudsburg and his brother, Wesley Rusk, accompanied him on the trip West and will remain for a brief visit.

my grammar to build a vocabulary. Everyone helps me. . . .

On Friday night, we took an all-night hike—the whole family, plus the other two Bjorns—to Tyrfjord, across the mountains, though not very big mountains. Find me the distinguished looking, middle-aged American lawyer who will go on an all-night hike with his family and his children's friends and then go straight to the office the next day! The whole thing was very picturesque, but Herr M. especially, for he was dressed in knickerbockers, with a sleeveless brown sweater over his shirt, and ski boots and a big pack. And the three children were in their matching ski sweaters that Randi knitted. She is going to knit me one for the big souvenir of the summer. We left about ten, starting hiking about eleven, rested from two to four and hiked again from four to six, taking buses at both ends.

The path was very up and down hill, through woods, which really look a lot more like Colorado than the Poconos. So far as I can discover, there is no hemlock here, but a great profusion of pine and spruce, unmixing with other kinds of trees. And at the end there was Tyrfjord—not really a fjord for it has no connection with the sea and is fresh water. It was very beautiful, especially in the early morning bright sunlight—dotted with tiny islands, the water absolutely smooth, the evergreens often coming right down to the shore. Then, I think, I really believed that this is Norway. Never have I seen so much beautiful water!

And On Politics
Yesterday, the group had a party at another home. We went swimming and motor boat riding and I even went surf boarding—standing on a surf board pulled by the motor boat, like water skiing, but much easier. It was a lot of fun.

I really think perhaps I have the best of it, so far as my family is concerned. Some of the other Experimenters have no children their age; some have only boys and some have only girls; some are quite far out of Oslo and it is difficult for them to get in; others are right in the heart of the city and have little access to swimming and trees. I cannot actually say that I have the nicest family because everyone seems quite happy, but I think perhaps I do. Not everyone in the other families speaks English either, which makes it difficult really to get to know them. Some get along better with some members of the family than others. Without exception, every member of this family has been absolutely terrific to me and I adore them all. I can't begin to think of leaving, when I know I shall be going so far away, and it will be so long. But perhaps Bjorn will come to the States soon. Did I tell you he wants to emigrate? He and his friends are extremely dissatisfied with the socialism here and feel that the Labor Party, the one in power, is very much too close to the Communist Party—same ends by different means. . . .

The Practical Nurses Club have planned an outing for Monday night. The members will assemble at 6 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Gloria Choy, 196 Braeside Ave., and go together to the home of Miss Jane Price Mountaintop, where they will hold a hot dog roast.

Just Between Us

—by Bobby Westbrook

It's very seldom that things work out exactly even in this world. You take a little more bread to finish up the extra gravy and then have bread left over. The nicest invitations come when you can't possibly accept them. The days your putts drop is the day you can't get a shot off the fairway.

But once in a great while, things just mesh. Just when the summer doldrums set in social news, the brides practically all married, the bridal showers all over, and the first planning meetings still waiting for board members to come back from vacation—along comes a visitor from Finland to make news.

And to balance that, the letters from Helen Donaldson who is summing in Norway. And to have them come just when there is space to put them is a very satisfactory state of affairs. Especially since both girls are so delightful.

Arla had a chance to see how her American friends spend Thursdays at Glen Brook Ladies Day yesterday. And Helen Donaldson met a nephew of Georg Jason.

Miss Rader, W. R. Lambert Are Married

Wind Gap—Miss Dolores Mae Rader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rader of Wind Gap, RD 1, became the bride of Walter Russell Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lambert, also of Wind Gap, RD 1, on July 21 at 4 o'clock at the Plainfield Union Church.

Rev. A. S. Leiby officiated at the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of nylon lace over satin, and a headpiece of lace trimmed with sequins and pearls to hold her fingertip veil. She carried a prayer book with a white orchid.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Jacob, of Star Route, Wind Gap, as matron of honor wore a dress of orchid nylon lace over satin with a matching headpiece trimmed with flowers. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Stewart Lambert of Wind Gap, RD 1, was best man and the ushers were Charles Jacob of Wind Gap and Gerald Rheinhard of Nazareth.

After a reception at the Woodley House, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. They will make their home on Star Route, Wind Gap. The bride, a graduate of Pen Dame Irene Ward, a Conservative member of Parliament, probably had no idea that she was opening an international discussion when she recently went to bat for new "unmentionables" for members of Britain's Women's Royal Army Corps. But newspaper headlines being what they are, Dame Irene's shot was heard around the world. And wouldn't you know it?—one of her first allies was an American . . . a knight in shining armor who came riding out of the west. Chicago, to be exact.

This is not the first time Americans have leaped forward to fight alongside their British cousins. But this is probably the most intimate battle yet waged, for the WRACS are desperately unhappy because of their panties and bras. These very personal garments, as issued to them by the British government, just don't fit, period. They feel sloppy . . . they look sloppy . . . and as one WRAC laments, "We could fasten them over our battle dress. They are more like a harness."

This surprises me. I never knew a harness could be that big and still harness anything. But while the description might be somewhat inept, I agree with the girls and their protector, Dame Irene, that this is most certainly an uncomfortable, unpleasant, potentially embarrassing situation.

Agreeing with the girls and willing to do something about it, is Walter H. Swanwick. Of all people, Mr. Swanwick has better than his share of first hand knowledge of war. He fought the enemy in Europe for 11 months as a member of the AEF during World War I, and if he himself doesn't recall the curse of ill-fitting General Issue, he can get information first hand from hundreds of American Legionnaires over whom he has served as Seventh District and Cook County Council Commander. Mr. Swanwick knows about women's foundationwear, too. He just happens to be an executive of the Formfit Company of Chicago, one of the nation's leading manufacturers and a supplier of our A. B. Wyckoff store.

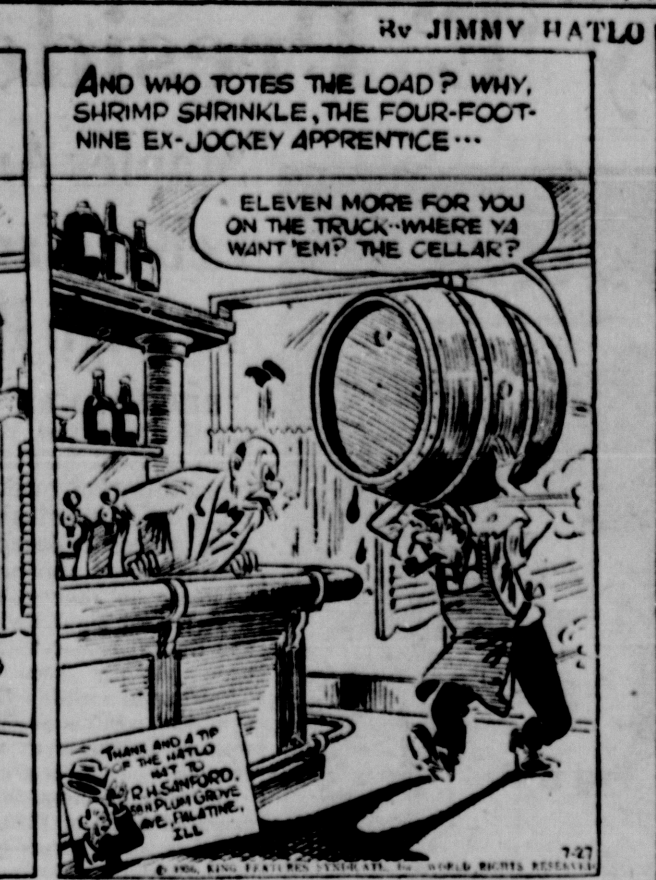

Never one to run away from a military engagement . . . and apparently not one to miss out on a bra sale if ingenuity will save the day . . . Mr. Swanwick has written Dame Irene that he agrees with her argument for giving the WRACS a special allowance permitting them to buy their own intimate apparel. And, when they receive that allowance—if they do—Mr. Swanwick wishes to remind them that FORMFIT can supply brassieres for every size, type, and shape of feminine figure.

Not letting any grass grow under his feet while Defense Minister Sir Walter Monckton considers Dame Irene's plea, Knight Swanwick has mailed Dame Irene a booklet prepared by the Formfit educational staff showing WRACS the proper way to measure for a bra.

Formfit bras are a terrific favorite with American customers, as we at Wyckoff's know. Our British cousins of the WRACS would probably find them equally beautiful, comfortable and efficient. As for panties, Formfit does not manufacture these. But what do you bet Dame Irene is on the receiving end of mail from some enterprising company that does . . . some executive in shining armor from—well, from Van Raaite, perhaps?

WELL, they did it. The Varsity have opened the way for the first training camp entourage of a Stroudsburg High School football team by picking Sun Mountain Camp, Shawnee-On-Delaware, as the site for the grid Mountaineers to drill the last week in August.

The Varsity "S" who will spend in the neighborhood of $1000 to feed and house the proteges of head Stroudsburg coach John Whitehead, will get some of the monies needed for financing the encampment Saturday and the first week in August by manning the refreshment booths at the District Keystone football tournaments.

The remainder of the cash will come from sponsors who will be the "meal ticket" for one or more Mountaineers.

At this time fever is running high among prospective sponsors. Right now the "S" coffers are expanding beyond expectations.

There is no doubt that the "S" project will be a success. Our only uncertainty is that the boys who will make the encampment will not appreciate the time and efforts applied by "S" president and Tom Somers and his co-workers to make the trip possible.

One of the days the "S" workers will handle refreshments will be this Saturday's tournament which will feature Tucker's Chevrolet, winners of the Monroe County Classic and Jim Thorpe, Carbon County champs.

The first two games will be played at Gordon Giffels Field with the lights slated to go on as soon as darkness intervenes. The first game of the best-of-three classic will start at 7 p.m.

Incidentally, the Jim Thorpe team knocked off Palmerton for the right to represent Carbon. Palmerton, it will be remembered, hung two shutouts on Twin City TV in a pair of exhibition games a month or so ago.

Bill Gerard, a former resident of East Stroudsburg who now resides in Sarasota, Fla., pens an encouraging letter to followers of Little League ball, especially centering his notice on East Stroudsburg. Instead of condensing the message we find it revealing to print all.

Sports Editor
Daily Record,
Stroudsburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

I thought this item might be of some interest to the folks in the East Stroudsburg area who have been Little League fans over the last few years.

Perhaps you remember my son Jimmy, who did quite well as a member of the 1954 East Stroudsburg Little League All-Stars. This was the team that just missed Williamsport by one game that year.

Well the fine training Jimmy received as a Little League in the East Stroudsburg League has made him an outstanding player in the Sarasota, Fla. Babe Ruth League. Jimmy will start tomorrow, July 25th, as a shortstop in the Florida Babe Ruth League state playoffs. In the event his team gets by the first game, he is scheduled to pitch the second game. However, the team they are scheduled to play is favored to win the state championship's, so their work is cut out for them.

Besides making the Sarasota County All-Stars as a shortstop and second string pitcher, Jimmy's regular team, Auto's of Sarasota, are tied for the County league overall championship. This will be decided in a three game playoff, after the state all-star eliminations are completed. He is the teams No. 1 pitcher, he will pitch the first game in that playoff series and the third game if necessary. In between he plays short.

Besides being a proud father, I thought you might be interested in what happened to one of the local boys. I am sure there will be many folks in East Stroudsburg who will be glad to hear how Jimmy is making out.

Sincerely yours,
BILL GERARD.

Wehmeier's Homer, Single Leads Cards Over Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, July 26 (AP)—Pitcher Herman Wehmeier socked a home run and a two-run single in a six-run St. Louis seventh inning as the Cardinals walloped the Philadelphia Phillies 14-9 tonight at Connie Mack Stadium.

Earlier, the Cardinals routed another right-handed Robin Roberts to come from a 3-6 deficit and take a 7-6 lead.

Sent To Showers

A double, two triples and a single sent Roberts to the showers for the sixth time this year.

Lopardo Homers
Stan Lopardo's 19th home run off St. Louis starter Bob Blaylock at the start of the sixth tied the score at seven. In the seventh, however, the Cardinals rapped relief pitchers Bob Miller and Ben Flowers for four hits and six runs to ice the game.

Mrs. Norelli Wins Honors At Glen Brook

MRS. MAE NORELLI captured top honors in the Replay A Shot Tournament of the Glen Brook Ladies Association at the local golf link yesterday.

Mrs. Norelli won the 18-hole play with a 76 score. She also won the low putt play with 14.

9-Hole Victor
Nine hole laurels went to Beulah Stackhouse with a 39 tally. Frank Barthold urges all women who wish to participate in the next tournament of the Glen Brook Ladies to enter at an early date.

Staples And LeBar Named To High Posts

RED NAUMAN was elected president of the Varsity "E" Club of East Stroudsburg at a reorganization meeting at the Mt. Tom Inn last night. Nauman succeeds Joseph Perfetti who declined another term.

Named to other high positions were Robert Staples, vice president, and Russell LeBar, secretary-treasurer. Staples succeeds Chester Kupiszewski while LeBar takes over the position of Thomas Verway as treasurer as well as succeeding himself as secretary.

In other business, the "E" group accepted a bid of $439 to build an addition on the press box at Memorial Stadium. Plans call for the construction of space for two photographers atop the press box.

It was announced that a check for $69 was turned over to the East Stroudsburg Playground. The money was the playground's half share of receipts of the Tulsa Choir Show, sponsored by the "E" Club.

It was also reported that the whirlpool bath donated by the club to East Stroudsburg High School will arrive here Aug. 14.

Club officials also said that the group has Postoffice Box 25 in East Stroudsburg for anyone wishing to correspond via mail.

Softball Workers Sought By Fabel

FORREST FABEL, commissioner of softball in Monroe County, issued a call for workers to help Gordon Giffels Field in shape for the District Tournament, involving Tucker's Chevrolet and Jim Thorpe.

Fabel urges all volunteers to report to the field Saturday at 1:30 p. m. to help turn the diamond in topflight condition.

Bangor To Meet

EAST BANGOR — Bangor will meet East Bangor in a Bi-State League game here today, starting at 6 p.m.

The tilt was originally scheduled for last night but was called after one inning of play because of rain.

PITTSBURGH, July 26 (AP)—Southpaw Fred Waters recorded his first victory of the season today, although he needed help in the eighth inning, as the Pittsburgh Pirates shut out the Chicago Cubs 4-0 to sweep a three-game series.

Waters, who now has a 1-1 record, gave up only four singles, fanned four and walked three in seven innings. He got into trouble in the eighth by walking two men with one out. Howie Pollet finished the game by holding the Cubs hitless.

Jones Loses

The loss was charged to Sam Jones who gave up six hits, struck out three and walked three in the 8½ innings that he twirled. Russ Meyer and Jim Davis finished the Cub pitching.

The Pirates scored their first run in the fourth on Roberto Clement's double and Frank Thomas' single. They got two more, both unearned—when Jones fielded a bunt and threw wild past third, permitting runners to score from first and second. The Pirates tallied again in the seventh when Bob Skinner lofted a bases-loaded sacrifice fly to left field to score a runner from third.

Woodling HR Gives Lemon Win Over Nats

CLEVELAND, July 26 (AP)—Gene Woodling's sixth-inning home run today enabled the Cleveland Indians to score their sixth straight victory by beating the Washington Nationals 1-0 in the first game of today's scheduled doubleheader, which was cut to 6½ innings by rain. The second game was postponed.

Left-hander Chuck Stobbs had held the Indians to two hits in the first five innings in a pitchers' duel with right-hander Bob Lemon. Woodling's homer, his fifth of the season, came with two outs.

Big Falls

A scoring attempt by the Nationals in the third inning was thwarted when Jose Valdivielso was thrown out at the plate. Valdivielso doubled to left to open the inning and went to third after Anton Roig's fly to center was caught. He attempted to score on a grounder by Chuck Stobbs, but grabbed the ball and threw it to catcher Jim Hegan for the out.

Washington loaded the bases with only one out in the fifth, but Carrasquel again grabbed a grounder by Stobbs, stepped on second and threw to first for a double play to end the threat.

Moore Predicts He'll Beat Patterson In September Setto

By JACK HAND

TORONTO, July 26 (AP)—Smiling Archie Moore, unmaked in his ninth-round technical knockout over James J. Parker, predicted today he would beat Floyd Patterson in September and listed California as his favorite site.

5-Run Rally Helps Yanks Down Chisox

CHICAGO, July 26 (AP)—The New York Yankees today shattered the Chicago White Sox with a five-run blast that knocked out starter Jack Harshman in the third inning to wrap up the rubber game of the series 2-5.

A two-run triple by Jim Rivera off Tommy Byrne in the second inning—a blow that Bob Cerv would have gotten before it hit the wall—had broken back for it faster—gave Chicago a 3-1 lead. Rookie Norm Siebern replaced Cerv in left field in the next inning.

But the Yankees took care of the Sox lead in short order. Harshman, seeking his first victory over New York this season but absorbing his seventh loss against many victories, walked Hank Bauer, then Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Bill Skowron and Andy Carey sprayed successive singles.

Gerry Staley was called to the rescue, but before he could retire the side, Gerry Coleman squeezed home Skowron and Byrne drove in Carey for the fifth run.

Les Moss lifted his sixth homer into the upper left-field tier in the third off Byrne. Winner Don Larsen went to the mound for the Yankees starting the fourth, yielding five of the Sox 11 hits. They bunched two in the ninth for a run.

Ted's Homer Lifts Bosox To 5-3 Win

KANSAS CITY, July 26 (AP)—Boston's Red Sox rallied for two runs in the eighth inning to tie the ball game at 3-all today, and then defeated the Kansas City Athletics on Ted Williams' 10th-inning, two-run homer, 5-3.

Bobby Shantz opened the 10th by walking Ted Lepcio, batting for Billy Klaus. Then Williams smacked his 400-foot drive over the left-center fence.

Take Lead
Kansas City took a 2-0 lead against Frank Sullivan in the first on a double by Al Pihlak and three singles. Sullivan gave up another score in the third frame when Pihlak slammed his first homer of the season.

Troy Herriague, rookie Kansas City right-hander, blanked the Red Sox through four innings and then was nicked for a run in the fifth when Billy Goodman walked and was driven home on singles by Klaus and Williams.

"California is ripe for a title fight," said Moore as he held court reporters in his hotel room. "I'm a Californian (last year it was Toledo) and maybe a little change of scenery would be good for me after the Rocky Marciano fight last fall."

Charles Johnston, Moore's manager, said he would be willing to go to California, either in the Los Angeles Coliseum or the Rose Bowl. However, he will sit down with Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, in New York next week to talk terms and site.

Still Regarded

A Sept. 18 date at Yankee Stadium still was regarded as the probable schedule for the Moore-Patterson match to determine a successor to Marciano as heavyweight champion.

Moore turned grimly serious during his interview when he discussed the fight with Marciano. He blamed the referee (Harry Kessler) for continuing to count after Marciano got up from his second-round knockdown and blocking off Moore who was anxious to put over the finisher.

"Didn't Ruin Me"
"Rocky didn't ruin me," he said proudly. "The only thing he hurt was my pride. Outside a black eye, I didn't look like I'd had a fight the next day any more than after last night's fight."

Moore toyed with the lanky Toronto heavyweight, gashed him around the left eye and gradually chopped him up until Referee Billy Burke stopped it at 2:02 of the ninth. A record Canadian boxing crowd of 19,832 paid $148,500 to watch the extravagant Jack Solomon's production at Maple Leaf Baseball Stadium.

Asked if he considered Patterson a good puncher, Moore replied, "I never saw him hit a man with one punch and leave him flat on his back. That's my description of a puncher."

Orioles Rock Hoelt, Clip Tigers 11-6

DETROIT, July 26 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles rocked Billy Hoelt for seven runs in the first four innings, including a three-run homer by George Kell, and went on to defeat the Detroit Tigers 11-6 today at Briggs Stadium. Gus Triandos and Tito Francona also smashed round-trippers for the Orioles.

Although they got to starter Bill Wight and reliever Billy Loes for a dozen safeties, including home runs by Ray Boone and Harvey Kuenn, the Tigers kicked in with three errors and each of them figured in the Orioles' scoring.

$50,000 Race Set Tomorrow At Monmouth

OCEANPORT, N. J.—The feature race to be run at Monmouth Park tomorrow is the Monmouth Oaks Stake for three year old fillies. The distance is one mile and one-eighth, worth $50,000 added.

The Monmouth Oaks has been a good luck race for the last two winners—Evening Out in 1954 and Misty Morn in 1955, were named the three year old fillies of the year.

The high light of the race is the California invader, Triple Jay, winner of six races including victories in the Goose Girl and Honey-moon Stakes. The filly was the first horse to span the continent by plane for specific races at Monmouth Park. Although finishing third in the Miss Woodford last Saturday, beaten one and one-half lengths over a sloppy strip, she should benefit by the experience gained and return to her previous top form.

Others Named
Other top members of the distaff set named for the Classic are: White Orchid, Cele's Pet, Lovely Shade, Stolen Hour, Land O Liberty, Rich and Rare, Doubledog-dare and Evelyn Miss.

Eddie Arcaro has won the Oaks five times including the last two. The Sorority Stakes—$20,000 added—is scheduled for Wednesday, August 10.

Mule Courtmen In Dixie Classic

ALLENTOWN—Participation in the Carrousel Tournament and a return visit to Madison Square Garden feature the Muhlenberg College 1956-57 basketball card, released today by "Berg athletic director George Lawson.

On December 17, 18 and 19, the Mules will be in Charlotte, N. C., as one of eight entries in the Carrousel Tournament sponsored by Davidson College. In addition to the Mules and the host school, the field will include Clemson, Wake Forest, Florida, Auburn, Colgate and St. Joseph's.

On January 12 the "Berg passers will take on N.Y.U. in Madison Square Garden. On February 9, Birney Crum's outfit will tangle with St. Joseph's in the Penn Pal-ace.

Braves Still On Warpath; Maul Giants

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—The red-hot Milwaukee Braves maintained their perfect slate at the Polo Grounds today, as Gene Conley pitched them to an 11-0 triumph over the New York Giants that gave them a sweep of the three-game series and a record of nine victories in as many starts here this season.

It was the eighth straight defeat for the hapless Giants.

The victory, the Braves' fifth in a row and the 14th in their last 15 starts, increased their first-place margin to 5½ games over Cincinnati which lost to the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-3.

The Braves, enjoying one of their most productive days of the year, supported Conley's nine-hit pitching with a 16-hit attack that included home runs by Henry Aaron and Bobby Thomson.

Everyone In Act
Every man in the Braves' starting lineup participated in the assault on five Giant pitchers with the exception of Conley and first baseman Joe Adcock. Aaron collected a couple of singles in addition to his homer and drove in four runs. Johnny Logan contributed a triple and two singles and Thomson had a single besides his homer, a 415-foot drive that hit the facade of the upper left-field deck.

Campy Snaps Slump, Leads Brooks To Win

BROOKLYN, July 26 (AP)—Catcher Roy Campanella broke his batting slump with a three-run homer and pitcher Roger Craig maintained his unbeaten streak at Ebbets Field as the Brooklyn Dodgers swept the three-game series with Cincinnati 11-5-3 today and moved up to within a half-game of the second-place Redlegs.

Campanella's homer, his first in three weeks, was the telling blow off right-hander Tom Acker who was making only his second major league start. It came in the fourth inning following a single by Ransom Jackson and a walk to Sandy Amoros, boosting the Dodgers' lead to 4-0.

Weakens In 7th
Craig had a two-hit shutout until the seventh when the Redlegs stretched their home-run streak against Brooklyn to 17 games.

Frank Robinson hit his 23rd home run with none on and in the ninth Ted Kluszewski blasted his 25th, breaking a tie with Duke Snider for the league lead. Kluszewski also had a couple of doubles in four times at bat.

The Dodgers collected nine hits all but one of their runs off Acker, who lasted five innings. Jackson cracked three hits, including a triple, and scored three runs. His three-bagger, followed by Amoros' sacrifice fly put the Dodgers ahead in the second inning. A double by Gil Hodges, following Jackson's third hit in the sixth, produced the final Brooklyn run.

Harwi 'Foe' Of Drivers At Nazareth

NAZARETH — The stock car drivers from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania who fly around the halfmile track in the Nazareth Fairgrounds will really be out to stop Otto Harwi this coming Sunday night, 8:15 o'clock.

Harwi, 1955 champion, has won three consecutive 25-lap feature events and the track management—in a bold move to halt Harwi's shenanigans—will offer a bonus to any driver who can beat Harwi to the checkered flag.

Already, a number of drivers expect to make a merry chase out of the races this week, and Harwi will be hard-put to continue his amazing win streak.

There will be two special events—Tex Ryan, trick rider, will perform in front of the grandstand, and there will be a grand display of fireworks after the show.

The races, a lively show last Sunday, saw Harwi outspeed Fred Fehr for the top prize.

Bill Wilson, Philadelphia; Bud Olson, Paulsboro, N. J.; Jack Bergstresser, Phillipsburg, and Fehr are but a few of the 50 drivers who will try to unseat the victory-happy Harwi this coming Sunday.

Newcomer Golf Leader

BALTIMORE, July 26 (AP)—John Knight of Springfield, Ill., traveling golf's pro circuit for the first time, putted his way into the first-round lead of the Eastern Open today with 67 strokes, five under par.

Twenty-four of the field were under par with 11 of them grouped at 70. Among this bunch were such better-known names as: Arnold Palmer, Mahopac, N. Y.; Doug Ford, Mahopac, N. Y.; Arnold Palmer, Mahopac, N. Y.; Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.

Saxton Will Defend Crown Against Basilio In September

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—World welterweight champion Johnny Saxton agreed today to defend his title against ex-champion Carmel Basilio in Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium either next Sept. 12 or Sept. 19.

The announcement was made by Norman Rothschild, Syracuse boxing promoter who said the agreement was reached in the offices of the International Boxing Club of New York, whose president, James D. Norris, will be co-promoter.

Acts For Self
Neither fighter was on hand but Rothschild said since Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Saxton's manager, is not licensed in New York, the fight was made possible by the New York State Boxing Commission's action last month, permitting Saxton to sign for himself.

The actual signing will take place in Syracuse, Rothschild said, and the bout will be televised nationally with the Syracuse area blacked out.

Saxton, who reached his 26th birthday on July 4, wrestled the title from Basilio via a 15-round decision in Chicago last March 14. Basilio had won the title on June 10, 1955, by knocking out Tony DeMarco in 12 rounds, a feat he duplicated last Nov. 30. DeMarco in 12 rounds, a feat he duplicated last Nov. 30. DeMarco, incidentally, had gained the title by knocking out Saxton on April 1, 1955, the only time the present champion had ever been knocked out in 57 fights.

Record Gate
Rothschild said he expected a record Syracuse gate for this second Saxton-Basilio fight which will be scaled from a top of $30, with Saxton getting 40 per cent of the receipts and Basilio a 20 per cent cut. The current record is $120,000 drawn by Basilio and DeMarco in their first title fight. The War Memorial Auditorium can seat 9,000.

Kid Anahuac 2-1 Underdog In TV Bout

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Kid Anahuac, 5 foot 2 with eyes of Mexican blue, is a 2-1 underdog to Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico, in his fistic debut at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. They are featherweights.

Anahuac, named after his native Mexican village, has won 15 straight bouts, six of them this year. Three of his 1956 triumphs have been by knockouts. The 22-year-old, whose pro career started in 1951, shows 22 victories, 6 defeats and 3 draws.

Natural Feather
Berrios, also 5-2, is a natural with the shoulders of a middleweight. His most recent outing was in the Garden on June 15 when he lost a tight decision to Cherif Hamia of France.

16 Triumphs
Prior to that, he won four straight and has a career record of 16 triumphs, 3 via the knockout route, and 6 defeats. The Puerto Rican, just 23, has a buzz-saw style of attack.

The bout gets the usual Friday night TV and radio treatment with the start scheduled at 9 p.m. EST. In New York, two judges and the referee vote to determine the winner on a round basis with an auxiliary point system called into use to break draws.

Takes Lead In Keystone Publix Play

HERSHEY, Pa., July 26 (AP)—Bob Cummings, 38, a Philadelphia accountant, today took an early lead in the 21st annual Publix gold tournament with a one over par 72 on the Hershey Park course.

Cummings, for two years the champion of his home Walnut Lane course, stroked a one under par 34 on the back nine to collect his winning tally for the first day of play.

In taking the lead, Cummings narrowly edged out Art Garrison, Hershey, perennial medalist of the tournament who got a 37-36-73 over the 6,207-yard park layout.

Must Maintain
Cummings must maintain his lead for 18 more holes tomorrow if he is to win the medal that Garrison has possessed for the last three seasons.

Close on the heels of the two leaders were Francis Donohue, Philadelphia, and John Ayers, Sharon, and Doug Hawk, Easton, who collected three over par 74s for the initial 18 holes of the three-day championship play.

The medal will be decided tomorrow on completion of 36 holes for the two days.

50-Lap Event Set For Dorney Oval

ALLENTOWN—A 50-lap event, first of the season on the fifth of a mile asphalt track at Dorney Park here, is slated for today and will help decide the Spring championship on the local oval. Friday night's races start at 8:30 o'clock.

Because each of the last three Friday night race events at Dorney Park were rained out, track officials agreed to lengthen the distance for this week's feature and rate it for the Swag title.

Bushkill Nine

BUSHKILL of the Pocono Mountain League will hold a workout here today, starting at 5:30 p. m. Club officials also announced that another drill will be held tomorrow at the local field, starting at 4:30 p. m.

Diplomat Finds Quiet Place To Work

William Smyser

By Ruth Ottaway
A QUIET place to study and write is what William Smyser, dramatist, career diplomat and lecturer on international affairs, has sought and found in the Poconos this summer.

With his charming English wife, two energetic children, three kittens and a French poodle, Smyser has made a delightful home of the old Henry Price place in Mountaintown.

Also with the family for the summer are a student from Thailand and a lovely German girl.

A dynamic personality, Smyser entertained this reporter with an almost two-hour interview ranging in its discussion from Stassen's endorsement of Governor Herter to ancient Egypt's Queen Nefertiti.

Smyser graduated from Harvard magna cum laude and with the American Field Service Fellowship. From 1924-28, he studied in Grenoble and at the Sorbonne.

He remained in Europe and wrote as drama critic in Paris, Vienna and Budapest until the change in administration in 1933 when he was asked to join the Foreign Service. Until 1951 he served in embassies and consulates in Vienna, Brussels, Berlin, Madrid, Prague, Bordeaux and Bangkok.

He also traveled in Africa, Asia and South America and has written for The National Geographic, The Century and Reader's Digest. In 1948 Smyser returned to this country as Public Affairs Officer to write reports for the State Department's U. S. Information and Education Service. In this capacity he first became interested in lecturing.

After his retirement from the State Department in 1951, he lectured and studied at the University of Pennsylvania. Under a Harrison Fellowship, he took six courses as well as lecturing on international relations and political science.

Last year Smyser returned to Europe to tour the Middle East and Africa for a first hand, up-to-date interpretation of present situations there. He plans to make his second lecture tour to the West Coast this Fall, where he will speak on international affairs in Europe.

Locally he has addressed the Dutch Treat Club who had this to say about him: "His (Smyser's) remarks concerning a number of today's weighty problems in foreign affairs seemed to us to be well founded upon fact and common-sense diplomacy. In the time at his disposal he imparted a terrific amount of information concerning his experiences in the U. S. Foreign Service."

Smyser has completed a book on Africa and is working toward the publication of his lectures, in essay form, this Summer.
